Report of the Committee on Non-Governmental Organizations on the first and second parts of its 2000 session (New York, 15-19 May and 12-23 June 2000)

Corrigendum

1. Page 16

Insert the following new paragraph 78:

78. The representative of Cuba rejected the allegations made by the representative of the United States. She made the following statement:

> "The Committee on Non-Governmental Organizations is not the relevant body to be discussing human rights issues. The United States is not at all an example of good practices in its penitentiary system, as substantiated by various special rapporteurs of the Commission on Human Rights and NGOs. Furthermore, the attention given to the so-called 'situation of human rights in Cuba' by the Commission has only been possible as a consequence of the manipulation of that body by the Government of the United States. Although the United States has exerted all kinds of political and diplomatic pressures against the membership of the Commission, the majority of its members have not supported the resolution against Cuba prepared in Washington, D.C. The real perpetrators of violations of the human rights of the Cuban people are the authorities of the United States, who are maintaining a blockade that qualifies as a genocide."
